Storage of Organic Products

Customized logistics guaranteed quality

Organic products are growing in popularity. Certified organic storage is required for the producers of organic products to be able to carry the important EKO-Quality Mark.

DL has the required SKAL certificate to be able to offer organic storage.

If you store your organic product with us, they will retain their organic label.

EKO Quality Mark

SKAL is the owner of the EKO-Quality Mark and maintains independent monitoring of organic production in the Netherlands.

The organization carries out random spot inspections and awards organic certification. Not only is there strict rules for the manufacture of the products, but also for warehousing and transport.

DL for storing organic products

Every logistic company that stores organic raw materials, half-produced and/or end products must be certified for this. Our warehouses in Bleiswijk, Amsterdam, Moerdijk, Bodegraven and Hazerswoude have the compulsory certificates in-house.

DL must demonstrate that organic products have A-Z traceability and bulk products are transported in clean trucks. We deal with your goods as if it were our own.
